

Full Answer Key – Error Correction Exercises

1. Last year, he should have completed many projects within a year, but he didn't finish anything.
2. In a job interview, there is a power imbalance between the interviewer and the interviewee.
3. During the company presentation, people on stage usually look left to right and right to left to connect with the audience.
4. Sometimes, if you were on mute, I would have thought you were speaking to your children.
5. Since last month, I have had to handle the kids on my own without help.
6. Last week, when I climbed to the top of the bridge, I couldn't look down because of fear.
7. It's important for us, Sarah, to make decisions quickly.
8. You used perfect body language during the presentation, which made your speech stronger.
9. After this bad experience, I had to start from scratch again.
10. However, it was much easier to start from scratch the second time around.
11. After the meeting, I'd like to give you some feedback on your performance.
12. You spoke too fast during your presentation, making it hard to understand.
13. There is so much information available nowadays that it's difficult to know what's true.
14. My manager started to think that I was overwhelmed by the amount of data I was processing.
15. He gave us a deadline to finish the project.
16. During the meeting, he tried to make us relax by using understated humor, but not everyone understood it. [During the meeting, used understated humor to lighten the mood.]
17. I trusted my intuitive feelings to lead the team in the right direction.

18. In my community, I'm known to be extroverted.
19. One funny conversation started when someone asked, 'Have you ever had a cavity?'
20. I said, 'Yes, unluckily it's genetic in my family.'
21. During the prep, someone asked, 'Do you know what EBITDA is?'
22. If you agree, we can finalize the details tomorrow morning.
23. Yesterday, I stopped by the gas station to buy a coffee.
24. While I eat, I like to listen to the radio because it helps me relax.
25. During lunch, everyone was aligned with what he proposed in the morning meeting.
26. Later, he received a call convincing him he had done something wrong.
27. The person who called on the phone was very convincing and made him doubt himself.
28. I told him (that) I thought it sounded fishy.
29. At the gas station, they said, 'We don't have this type of coffee anymore,' so I had to choose another one.
30. Also, talking about global warming makes people stressed nowadays.